

F1 Performance Engineering Report

Session Details:

Circuit: Monaco Street Circuit
Analysis: Grip Utilization (G-G Diagram)

Engineering Summary:

The G-G diagram indicates high longitudinal grip during braking, but a notable narrowing of the friction circle during high-speed transitions. This suggests potential under-utilization of the tire contact patch in mid-corner phases. Recommendation: Further analyze damper velocities to improve mechanical grip stability.